

Deputy Chief Investigator: Auto Insurance Fraud Unit (AIFU) – New York City

The Office of the Attorney General is seeking qualified candidates for Investigator positions located in various locations in the State. Candidates should be hard-working, motivated and committed to public service on behalf of the people of the State of New York.

In 2001, in response to the increase in no-fault insurance fraud, the governor signed Executive Order 109, appointing the Attorney General as the special prosecutor for auto insurance fraud. Since 2002, AIFU has brought felony charges against hundreds of defendants, including doctors, lawyers, healthcare providers, steerers, lay people, and hospital employees. AIFU continues to investigate and prosecute no-fault fraud and other types of auto insurance fraud.

The qualifications for this position are: Experience holding the rank of Detective 2nd grade or equivalent; prior supervisory experience of at least 25 subordinates; experience investigating violent/property related crimes including schemes to defraud; experience investigating assaults, robberies, and homicides; experience conducting internal investigations; proficient in handling administrative matters such as personnel assignments, case loads, and review of investigative reports; having established contacts within the law enforcement community in the New York City area.

Please respond to posting number #9318, as outlined below. Deadline for responding is October 14, 2013.

Qualifications in addition to those listed above:

Must have at least ten years of law enforcement experience and current NYS basic police school certification.

All candidates must reside in New York State at the time of appointment.

Performance of the duties may require frequent, unscheduled work on evenings and weekends.
