15 Most Expensive Penthouses In the United States | #7. 432 Park Avenue Penthouse, New York ($87.7 million) | source: ny.curbed.com

Our next expensive condo is just recently bought by Saudi Arabian billionaire, Fawaz Al Hokair. He spent $87.7 million for this 8,255 square-foot unit of 432 Park Avenue apartment building. This particular building is the tallest residential building in the city of New York.

Imagine the view you wake up to everyday if you live on its 92th floor.

This luxurious residence disposes of oak flooring and cabinetry, marble baths, and a wood-burning fireplace. It also features six bedrooms and seven-and-a-half bathrooms in total. In addition to that, it also has enormous dining room and library.

You don't expect getting to the 92th floor by stairs, do you? Owning this exclusive unit of apartment gives you the access to a private elevator. Its landing opens to an elegant gallery which leads to the living room.

The expensive penthouse evokes elegance and an ambiance of luxury with the breathtaking sensational views that only the 1,396-foot Manhattan tower can offer.
