

Office of the New York State Attorney General Letitia James

Get help. File a complaint.

Advanced family planning resources

Plan ahead to protect yourself and your family

Many New Yorkers are concerned about the possibility of being detained or deported by federal immigration authorities. Families and children are also affected by these actions. To help you plan for yourself and your children, community organizations have developed the following resources.

This information does not come from the Office of the New York State Attorney General and is not legal advice. We encourage you to seek advice from a competent lawyer when making decisions.

Office of the New York State Attorney General: Advanced family planning resources

General helpline: 1-800-771-7755

Deaf or hard of hearing: 1-800-788-9898

Other government and community resources

Immigrant Defense Project

Parental designation form fact sheet

Immigrant Defense Project

Emergency care for children fact sheet

New York State Office of Child and Family Services

Parental designation form

Legal Aid NYC

Advanced planning guidance for parents

Volunteer Lawyers Project

Planning for Immigrant Parents

New York Immigration Coalition

Family preparedness forms (English)

New York Legal Assistance Group (NYLAG)

Standby Guardianship Project and Hotline

Family preparedness forms (Spanish)

Office of the New York State Attorney General: Immigrants' resources and rights

