

New York State
Attorney General
Letitia James

Friends,

It is a privilege to serve as New York State's Attorney General, safeguarding the legal rights of New York's citizens, organizations, and natural resources. My goal is for this office to be our nation's best public-interest law firm. To do that, we need the finest legal minds and professional talent.

I hope you will consider joining us, and I look forward to working together to fight for justice for all New Yorkers.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink that reads "Letitia James".

Letitia James
Attorney General

Volunteer Attorneys

The OAG offers an outstanding volunteer program that gives attorneys the opportunity to provide a public service. Experienced attorneys can lend their expertise while recent law graduates can gain hands-on legal training, as well as professional development. Volunteer openings are available in almost every bureau and regional office.

Students

The OAG offers paid student positions (beginning fall 2019) and externships for course credit throughout the year for law, undergraduate, and graduate students. Placements are available in the legal and administrative bureaus statewide. Students must be eligible to be employed in the U.S. and NY residency is not required. Assignments for law students include: drafting briefs, pleadings and memos; document review; interviewing witnesses; and assisting with deposition and trial preparation. Assignments for undergraduate and graduate students include: conducting research; drafting correspondence; data entry and analysis; consumer complaint mediation; and office and event support.

Candidates from diverse backgrounds are encouraged to apply. The OAG is an equal opportunity employer and is committed to workplace diversity.
