ASSURANCE OF DISCONTINUANCE PURSUANT TO EXECUTIVE LAW § 63(15)

The Office of the Attorney General of the State of New York ("OAG") commenced an investigation into unlawful and deceptive charges for the purchase of leased vehicles by Palisades Imports LLC d/b/a Nissan of Garden City, Nissan of Huntington LLC d/b/a Nissan of Huntington, Rockaway Cars I LLC d/b/a Rockaway Nissan, North Shore Nissan LLC d/b/a Nissan of Smithtown, and SSS Rocks LLC ("Respondents") pursuant to General Business Law § 349, General Business Law § 350, Personal Property Law §§ 330-53, and Executive Law § 63(12). This Assurance of Discontinuance ("Assurance") contains the findings of the OAG's investigation and the relief agreed to by the OAG and Respondents, whether acting through their respective directors, officers, employees, representatives, agents, affiliates, or subsidiaries (collectively, the "Parties").

OAG's FINDINGS

Background

- 1. Palisades Imports LLC d/b/a Nissan of Garden City ("GCN") is a licensed dealer for Nissan vehicles, with its principal place of business at 316 North Franklin Street, Hempstead NY 1150.
- North Shore Nissan LLC d/b/a Nissan of Smithtown ("NOS") was a licensed dealer for Nissan vehicles, with its principal place of business at 535 Middle Country Road, St James NY 11780.
- 3. Nissan of Huntington LLC d/b/a Nissan of Huntington ("NOH") is a licensed dealer for Nissan vehicles, with its principal place of business at 850 East Jericho Turnpike, Huntington Station, NY 11746.
- 4. Rockaway Cars I LLC d/b/a Rockaway Nissan ("RON") was a licensed dealer for Nissan vehicles, with its principal place of business at 600 Burnside Avenue, Inwood NY 11096.
- 5. Each of GCN, NOH, RON, and NOS (together, "the dealerships") are owned in whole or in part by one or both of SSS Rocks LLC and Patrick Dibre.
- 6. Respondents operate the dealerships pursuant to longstanding contractual agreements with Nissan of North America Inc. ("NNA") and its various subsidiaries, one of which is the Nissan Motor Assurance Company ("NMAC"), which operates still other companies that arrange for financing for car leasing.
- 7. Respondents offer consumers the option of leasing a Nissan vehicle instead of purchasing it outright. To do so, the consumer executes a lease agreement with the dealer; the dealer then assigns the lease (and, by extension, the ultimate title to the car) to a third-party financing company; the consumer then makes its lease payments to that third party financing company until the lease term concludes.

- 8. For Respondents during the period in question, the third-party financing company it used for car leases was almost always Nissan Infiniti LT LLC ("NILT"), a subsidiary of NMAC. This investigation solely concerned vehicles leased through NMAC.
- 9. When the lease term was up, and assuming they had made all the lease payments as promised, consumers are obliged to return to a Nissan dealership and exercise one of three options. First, they can simply return the car to the dealership upon payment of a final "disposition fee" to NMAC. In this situation, NMAC owns the car, and usually sells the car to the dealership from which the car was leased, or the dealership where the car was returned, to sell on as an ordinary used car. Second, consumers can extend the lease, or lease a different vehicle, with further agreement from the dealer and NMAC. Third, if the lease so provides, consumers have the option to purchase the car outright. The OAG's investigation focused on this third option.
- 10. Because any vehicle leased through NMAC was owned by NMAC, it is not necessary for consumers who leased their vehicles from one dealer to purchase them through that same dealer (although many consumers understandably did so). Instead, NMAC obligated all of its franchised dealers to process exercises of the purchase option, regardless of whether the dealer originated the lease.

The SignatureLease Makes Specific Promises About the Price of a Purchased Leased Vehicle

- 11. The dealerships used a standard lease form for their auto leases, the "SignatureLease." This same form was used by other Nissan dealers; all leases at issue in this investigation used the same form SignatureLease. The SignatureLease is the governing document setting out the terms of the lease, and is provided to every consumer after it is executed.
- 12. The SignatureLease set out the process by which the lessee could purchase the leased vehicle. At the time the vehicle was leased, the consumer signed a SignatureLease with the leasing dealership; the consumer and original leasing dealership were the counterparties to the SignatureLease contract. The dealership would then immediately assign (on the very lease document itself) the lease and underlying title to the vehicle to NMAC.² When the time came to purchase the vehicle, this process would occur in reverse: pursuant to clause 28(2) of the SignatureLease, "[i]f the Lessee [i.e. the consumer] is purchasing the Vehicle, the Lease and the Vehicle are sold to a dealer, who will then sell the Vehicle to the Lessee." At the moment of the exercise of the purchase option (that is, the moment that title to the vehicle passed to the consumer), the parties to the Lease would be the consumer on the one hand and the selling dealership, even if different from the leasing dealership, on the other.
- 13. As relevant here, the SignatureLease contains two passages giving customers the right to purchase their leased vehicle.

² The SignatureLease reads "Lessor accepts the terms of this Lease and Lessor assigns and transfers to Nissan-Infiniti LT ("NILT") all of Lessors' rights, title, and interest in and to this Vehicle and this lease including all amounts payable thereunder, pursuant to the terms of the applicable written Retailer Agreement between Lessor and Nissan Motor Acceptance Corporation ("NMAC"), the benefits of which have been assigned by NMAC to NILT for purposes of leases assigned to NILT. Any guaranty by Retailer is made notwithstanding the terms of the Retailer Agreement. By signing below, the Lessor accepts the terms and conditions of this Lease."

- 14. The first passage, in section 6 of the SignatureLease, reads in relevant part "Purchase Option at End of Lease Term. You have an option to purchase the Vehicle at the end of the lease term for $[the residual value of the vehicle, discussed below], and a Purchase Option Fee of $300. See Section 15."
- 15. The second passage, in section 15 of the SignatureLease, reads as follows (emphasis and size differences in original):

You have the option to purchase this Vehicle "AS IS" from the originating dealer, or other location we specify, in cash for the Purchase Option Price, plus any official fees and taxes, vehicle inspection costs required in connection with the purchase, and a Purchase Option Fee of $300, which fees, taxes and costs are not included in the Purchase Option Price agreed to in Section 6. If you purchase the Vehicle at the end of the lease term, the Purchase Option Price will be the Residual Value shown in Section 5.d). If you purchase the Vehicle before the end of the lease term, the Purchase Option Price will be the Adjusted Lease Balance disclosed in Section 14). In either case, you must also pay other amounts due under this Lease at the time of purchase.

- 16. Section 15 explains that if the vehicle is purchased at the end of the lease term, the consumer need only pay the residual value of the vehicle as the Purchase Option Price plus the $300 purchase option fee and certain additional sums described below. This makes logical sense, as a car's "residual value" is the value of the car at the end of the lease term after taking into account depreciation and lease payments (see Personal Property Law § 337[5][k] [requiring disclosure of residual value in any motor vehicle lease]).
- 17. The adjusted lease balance—which served as the Purchase Option Price if the car was purchased before the lease term was up—was defined in section 14 of the SignatureLease as "a charge in today's dollars for Base Monthly Payments not yet due and the Residual Value of the Vehicle." This too makes sense: if a consumer paid the residual price to purchase the vehicle at the end of the lease term (as section 6 explains), it was reasonable to expect that purchasing the vehicle before the end of the lease term would require making the remaining lease payments as well.

- 18. The elements of the Purchase Option Price were not only reported to the consumer on the face of the lease agreement; these important figures were also reported to NMAC. If the purchase option were exercised and it was necessary for the dealer to purchase the vehicle from NMAC to sell it to the consumer exercising the option, the dealer would only pay NMAC the Purchase Option Price plus $75 in a "buyer fee." That $75 reflected NMAC's cut of the $300 Purchase Option Fee; the dealer would retain $225 as its share of the fee.
- 19. The remainder of section 15 of the SignatureLease sets out the entirety of the charges they would be obligated to pay in order to purchase the vehicle:
 - a. The Purchase Option Price (being either the residual value if purchased at the lease term, or the residual value plus remaining lease payments if purchased beforehand); and,
 - b. any official fees and taxes; and,
 - c. vehicle inspection costs required in connection with the purchase; and,
 - d. the Purchase Option Fee of $300; and,
 - e. other amounts due under the lease at the time of purchase.
- 20. Each of the additional fees described in the SignatureLease has a well-understood and well-defined meaning in New York State, in particular.
- 21. New York law limits the "official fees and taxes" payable on any sale of a used car in the Vehicle and Traffic Law and General Business Law to the following: sales tax, vehicle inspection costs (if the vehicle requires inspection), title transfer fees, registration fees (if the car's registration must be renewed), and, if the dealer assists the consumer with obtaining title transfer or registration, a limited fee for providing this service.

- 22. Cars are subject to sales tax; for the dealerships, located as they are in Nassau County, this sales tax rate was usually 8.625% (sometimes less, if the consumer lived in a lower-tax jurisdiction).
- 23. It is almost always the case that dealers handle car registration, certificates of title, and associated paperwork for the consumer; if they do, 15 NYCRR § 78.19 permitted the dealer to cover the expense of providing this service by charging a fee not to exceed $75 if the car was sold before August 18, 2021, or $175 after August 18, 2021. If the consumer wants special or distinctive plates, the dealer may charge not more than $5 for assisting the consumer in obtaining these plates pursuant to that same regulation.
- 24. The vehicle inspection costs imposed by New York's Department of Motor Vehicles range depending on the type of vehicle, but for passenger Nissan vehicles would be no more than $37 in the New York City metropolitan area serviced by Respondents ($10 for a safety inspection, $27 for an emissions inspection).
- 25. As for the cost of certificates of title and registration, the dealer is required by General Business Law § 396-qq(2) to "either calculate the actual registration and/or certificate of title charges due, or make a good faith estimate in each transaction of such charges of the sales contract or lease agreement." According to the DMV, the title transfer fee is a flat $50.
- 26. If a consumer needs to renew or change their registration, the registration fee is readily calculable from the weight of the vehicle and ranges from $26 for the lightest Nissan vehicles to $122 for the heaviest Nissan vehicle on the market. Entirely new registrations attract a DMV fee of $25 for standard license plates; for specialized plates, the new registration DMV fee is $60.

- 27. In sum, then, the SignatureLease allows the consumer to buy their vehicle for the total of the residual value, the remaining lease payments, sales tax, and no more than between no more than $438 to $527 in additional fees before August 18, 2021, and no more than $538 to $627 in additional fees after that date (inclusive, in both cases, of the $300 Purchase Option Fee).
- 28. Respondents knew that the charges they could impose were limited in this way; indeed, they agreed not to charge any more in clause 4.1 of the Retailer Agreement Respondents signed with NMAC, which read in relevant part (emphasis added):

If a Customer exercises an option to purchase the Vehicle under a Lease, upon NMAC's request the Retailer [i.e. Respondents] shall repurchase the Lease and the Vehicle. The repurchase price to be paid by the Retailer to NMAC shall be the Purchase Option Price disclosed in the Customer's Lease, and shall be paid to NMAC according to procedures that NMAC may from time to time announce through Retailer Bulletins, website applications or other means. Upon such repurchase, the Retailer shall promptly arrange to sell the Vehicle at the Purchase Option Price disclosed in the Customer's Lease, and settle its account with the Customer, including collection and remittance of applicable sales tax, title and registration fees to the appropriate governmental authority. Retailer acknowledges and agrees that it cannot charge the Customer any fees in connection with the gross payoff other than what is disclosed in the Lease or required by state law.

29. NMAC's SignatureLease Dealer Reference Guide, issued as early as 2016 and then sent to dealerships again every single following year, was even more blunt about the impermissibility of additional fees (language repeated verbatim, every year, from 2016 to 2023):

You may only charge the Purchase Option Fee stated on the lease contract when the lease contract was signed. You may not impose any other purchase option fees or charges. You may not charge a documentation fee as part of the lease purchase option, unless you have entered into a new retail finance agreement with the customer to enable the customer to exercise the option. The documentation fee would thus be permitted under the terms of the new financing contract. Official fees and taxes may only be imposed on the customer if required by law for the purchase transaction. A purchase option fee may not be charged on leases that do not disclose a purchase option fee.

30. This language in the Retailer Agreement and Dealer Reference Guide underscored that any vehicle leased with the SignatureLease could be purchased without any additional fees beyond those required by law and the $300 purchase option fee. It also emphasized that it would be clear on the face of NMAC paperwork whether the amount the consumer paid for the car would match what the dealer paid for the car: the true contractual Purchase Option Price as calculated by NMAC.

The COVID-19 Pandemic Results in Higher Prices for Used Cars

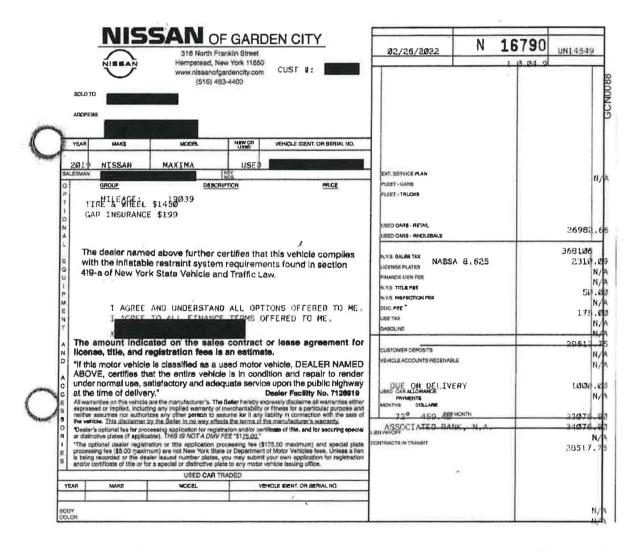

- 31. As a result of shortages in semiconductor chips and shutdowns in new car production caused at least in part by the COVID-19 pandemic, demand for used cars spiked and supplies of used cars plummeted. As a result, the price of used cars increased and far more consumers began to invoke their contractual purchase rights at the conclusion of their lease than had previously.
- 32. As discussed above, whatever the circumstances behind the rise in purchase option invocations, Respondents had only one lawful course open to them when a consumer turned to them to facilitate exercise of the purchase option: charge only the dollars-and-cents price set forth in the SignatureLease for that option, even if economic circumstances made Respondents' compliance with those obligations more economically disadvantageous than Respondents anticipated when the price was set.

33. Owing to NMAC's arrangement of its operations in New York, a dealer is an essential part of the lease purchase process. Failure to purchase a vehicle at or before the lease was up would lead the car automatically reverting to NMAC. With a ticking clock and no alternatives save other Nissan dealers (many of whom were doing precisely the same thing), consumers seeking to buy their leased vehicles lacked any true bargaining power. It was Respondents' legal obligation to honor the terms of the lease agreement and not to take advantage of their increase in bargaining power.

Respondents Charge Consumers Additional Unlawful Fees and Hide Them in the Deal Paperwork

- 34. Both the price ultimately charged for lease purchases and the documentation of the components of that price are set forth in "deal jackets"— the dealer's copy of all the collected paperwork for car sale furnished to a consumer. The deal jackets for all lease purchases made by Respondents' consumers between February 2020 and August 2022 demonstrate that consumers were repeatedly charged illegal fees that were not disclosed in the lease agreement. The deal jackets reflect both the amount of money consumers were supposed to be charged under the SignatureLease, and how much more they were in fact charged by Respondents during the pandemic. The differences were often significant.
- 35. "On the sale of every vehicle, the retail dealer must issue to the purchaser, in addition to the certificate of sale (form MV-50 [required by the DMV]), a bill of sale or an invoice" (15 NYCRR § 78.13[a]). It is a deceptive practice for any dealer, at the time of a sale of a motor vehicle, to give a customer an invoice that does not list with specificity each of the fees that the consumer would be charged for the car and any add-on products the consumer chose to purchase at the same time such as an extended service contract.

36. The four dealerships at issue in this investigation use essentially identical methods: in each, the dealer's invoice falsely stated that the price of the vehicle (that is, the NMAC-set price) was far higher than what it actually was. For example, here is an invoice issued by GCN to a customer whose personal details have been redacted for privacy for the purchase of a leased 2019 Nissan Maxima.

37. On its face, this invoice appears to comport with the law. The price of the vehicle is stated to be $26,982.66, and adding taxes of $2,310.09, a dealer registration fee of $175 (this deal being done after the August 2021 increase), and license and title fee of $50, one obtains the specified sum of $29,517.75. Notably, on this invoice, two after-sale products are listed in the left-hand column ($1450 for Tire and Wheel, $199 for Gap Insurance), although these products are excluded from the overall total on the right.

- 38. But $26,982.66 was never the vehicle's actual price as specified by the SignatureLease. In fact, the vehicle's true net payoff amount—according to the NMAC printout included in the deal jacket itself—was $21,984, or $4,998.66 less than the amount stated on this first invoice. This discrepancy cannot be reconciled even if one were to (improperly) roll the after-sale products on the left column of the first invoice into the vehicle value stated in the right column.
- 39. Some consumers were further misled by Respondents' practice of issuing two invoices for each purchase. The invoices seldom if ever agreed with each other, with each invoice including products or services the other lacked. Here is the second invoice for the consumer above:

ALL PAYMENTS FOR RETAIL OR LEASE ORDERS ARE SUBJECT TO TIEF	AIA	PPROVAL BY PRIMARY	ENDER

- 40. This invoice literally does not add up. If one adds $23,733.68, $449.98 for "Total Protection" (an after-sale product discussed shortly), sales tax of $2,310.09, the dealer optional fee of $175 and title fee of $50, one gets $26,718.75. Yet here, the total cash price was stated to be $29,318.75, or $2,600 extra.
- 41. And the components of that sum are also inaccurate: as noted above, the real price of the vehicle was and should have been stated to be $21,984, but here GCN stated the price to be $23,733.68. This amalgamation of bad arithmetic and outright inaccuracies deceived consumers into overpaying Respondents for their vehicles.

- 42. More than 54% of the lease buy-outs Respondents processed during the pandemic period were afflicted with similar discrepancies: in each, the lease buyout fee and additional unlawful charges were rolled into the base vehicle price; in none were these actions disclosed plainly to the consumer.
- 43. Specifically, OAG found that 188 of 514 lease buyout customers at Rockaway were overcharged (36.6%); 394 of 905 lease buyout customers at GCN were overcharged (43.5%); 425 out of 621 customers at NOS were overcharged (68.4%); and 451 out of 616 customers were overcharged at NOH (73.2%).
- 44. Another common deceptive practice involved charging consumers for a "Certified Pre-Owned" or "CPO" certificate. CPO certificates are issued by NNA and generally say that, at the time of certification, the car was in good repair. The certificates include a limited additional warranty that enhances the car's resale value. To acquire a CPO certificate the dealer conducts an inspection of the car; if the car is in need of repairs to meet the CPO benchmark, the dealer may offer to do the repairs for the consumer so as to bring the car up to the CPO standard.
- 45. What the dealer may not do, however, is charge anything for the CPO when it was being sold as part of a lease buyout. This is because, as NNA specified in its CPO Dealer Guide, "federal law prohibits upselling a warranty. The [CPO] must be properly disclosed, included in the price of the vehicle, and cannot be sold to the customer as an add-on." The SignatureLease in turn forbade inflation of the price of the vehicle for a lease buyout. It necessarily followed that the CPO certificate, for lease buyouts only, was required to be provided free of charge if it were to be provided at all.
- 46. The form that the dealers had to fill out to indicate to NMAC what the customer was going to do at the end of the lease reaffirmed that dealers could not charge consumers for a CPO certificate as part of a lease buyout. For lease buyouts, the form read "if CPO is desired, CPO certification will be at no cost to the customer. If repairs are needed in order to meet CPO certification standards, with customer request and approval, up to $2,500 can be included in the contract." This text led to a footnote that read "repair fees are required to be itemized and repair order must be included in the funding packet with the customer's signature as authorization." A copy of the relevant part of the form shows how conspicuous these terms were:

OPTION 2 Dealer facilitated customer lease purchase with dealer facilitated financing:

- · Dealer will process the transaction
- . The contractual $300 purchase option fee will be charged (except KS and WI)
- Official Fees, payable to State/Government Entities, such as tax and title/registration fees may be charged
- · If CPO is desired, CPO certification will be at no cost to the customer
- If repairs are needed in order to meet CPO certification standards, with customer request and approval, up to $2,500 can be included in the contract
- · Dealer Documentation fees for new financing may apply
- Any additional products or services purchased by the customer (GAP, VSC, etc.)
- 47. Although NMAC did charge $399 for CPO certifications, NMAC imposed those charges directly on the dealership itself and prohibited the dealership from passing the charges on to consumers.
- 48. Despite these clear rules—signed many times by Respondents' representatives on the NNA form excerpted above—Respondents repeatedly charged what it called "certification fees" to consumers.
- 49. The most egregious offender on this score was GCN. Not only did GCN charge every one of its 995 lease buyout customers $399; it then charged 248 of those customers additional fees, starting at $1,500, also for "certification," Although to NMAC these were characterized as "repairs." They were not repairs: one consumer reported the "repair" consisting of the dealer hosing the car down. Another customer was charged $2,563 for electrical tape (total cost, according to the dealer's own internal systems: 8 cents). Other customers were charged $3,200 certification fees, which, had they been in fact charged for repairs, would have been charged for repairs designed to comply with safety recall, which a federal law, 49 U.S.C. § 30120, requires be provided to consumers for free. It is not clear GCN itself thought of these charges as for "repairs" because it did not document these "repairs" in an itemized invoice despite a state statute, Vehicle and Traffic Law § 398-d(1), requiring it do so, and despite its usual practice of documenting repairs in such an itemized form.

- 50. Altogether, GCN charged at least $959,489 in unlawful certification charges. For their part, NOH charged 97 consumers at least $144,841.37 in unlawful certification fees; NOS charged 252 consumers at least $452,165 in unlawful certification fees.
- 51. Even if all of Respondents' unlawful fees had been disclosed, Respondents still were misrepresenting that consumers would pay one price for the vehicle in the SignatureLease when, in fact, Respondents charged them a higher one.

Respondents' Conduct Violated Applicable Statutes and Regulations applicable to motor vehicle leases by New York State law, require that a lease include "statement of whether or not the lessee has the option to purchase the leased property, and . . . the purchase price . . . or the method for determining the price and when the lessee may exercise this option," (12 CFR § 213.4[i][1]-[2]); 15 U.S.C. § 1667a[5] [portion of the Consumer Leasing Act of 1976 underlying this regulation, requiring disclosure of "whether or not the lessee has the option to purchase the leased property and at what price and time"]; Personal Property Law § 337[5][a] [New York State Motor Vehicle Retail Leasing Act ("MVRLA") obliging retail lease agreements contain "[a]ll items required to be disclosed by the act of Congress entitled 'Consumer Leasing Act of 1976' and the regulations thereunder"]).

- 53. By repeatedly charging lease purchase consumers more than the price guaranteed by the SignatureLease, Respondents rendered the SignatureLease's disclosures defective and materially misleading, in violation of Regulation M and the MVRLA.
- 54. By misrepresenting the price at which consumers can purchase their leased vehicle at the end of the lease term, failing to honor the purchase price stated in the lease and concealing fees or fabricating fees, and (in the case of GCN and NOS) "packing" or "jamming" Total Protection as a functionally mandatory inclusion of the purchase price, Respondents engaged in false advertising in violation of Section 350 of the General Business Law, deceptive practices in violation of Section 349 of the General Business Law, and fraudulent and illegal conduct in violation of Executive Law § 63(12), including by violating Vehicle and Traffic Law § 398-d(1) and 49 U.S.C. § 30120.
- 55. By engaging in the aforementioned acts and practices, respondents have also engaged in repeated fraudulent and illegal conduct in further violation of Executive Law § 63(12).

AGREEMENT

- 56. WHEREAS, Respondents neither admit nor deny the OAG's Findings, paragraphs 1-55 above, but have agreed to this Assurance in settlement of the violations described above and to avoid the time, expense, and distraction of litigation;
- 57. WHEREAS, the OAG finds the relief and agreements contained in this Assurance appropriate and in the public interest, such that the OAG is willing to accept this Assurance pursuant to Executive Law § 63(15), in lieu of commencing a statutory proceeding for violations of General Business Law § 349, General Business Law § 350, Personal Property Law § 337,

Vehicle and Traffic Law § 398-d(1), Executive Law § 63(12), 12 CFR § 213.4, 49 U.S.C. § 30120 and 15 U.S.C. § 1667 et seq. based on the conduct described above;

IT IS HEREBY UNDERSTOOD AND AGREED, by and between the Parties:

RELIEF

Definitions

- 58. For purposes of the paragraphs that follow, these terms shall have the following meanings:
 - a. "After-sale" product or service is any product or service for which the consumer is paying over and above the amount the consumer must pay to purchase a leased vehicle without any such products (i.e. the Total Allowed Charge). After-sale products include, but are not limited to, accessories, credit repair services, identity theft protection services, glass coatings, security services, warranties, maintenance coverage, tire and wheel protection, and insurance coverage, but do not include any product or service NNA or NMAC directs be provided to the consumer at no charge;
 - b. An after-sale product or service is a "Fully Disclosed After-Sale Product" if the cost of that product or service was itemized, separately, on the invoice provided to the consumer (e.g. "Extended Warranty," "Tire and Wheel Protection," etc.) and incorporated into a final consolidated total with all other charges.
 - c. "Clearly and conspicuously" shall mean that the statement, representation, or term is so presented as to be readily apparent and understood by the person to whom it is being addressed. Factors to be considered for this purpose include, but are not limited to, language, font type and size, length, and color contrast. The inclusion - of more than one price figure on an invoice without clear reference to what that price figure represents is by definition not clear and conspicuous.

- d. The "dealer's buyout price" is the amount the dealer paid or will be obliged to pay NMAC to acquire the vehicle in the course of executing a lease purchase on behalf of a consumer;
- e. The "Determined Purchase Option Price" with respect to the purchase of any leased vehicle is the net payoff price as defined by NMAC on the day of the lease purchase or the repurchase price paid by Respondents to NMAC during the process of completing a lease buyout, whichever is lower;
- f. "Respondents" includes Respondents and any dealerships owned or operated by Respondents;
- g. "Total Allowed Charge" means, with respect to the purchase of any leased vehicle, the sum of the Determined Purchase Option Price, the $300 Purchase Option Fee, the price of the Fully Disclosed After-Sale Products, those taxes and fees that the law of New York State, the United States, or another state or locality expressly require to be paid in connection with the purchase and transfer of ownership of the vehicle to the consumer, and the fee permitted to be charged by 15 NYCRR § 78.19 if the dealership provides the services described in that regulation.

Changes to Respondents' Business Practices

59. General Injunction. Respondents shall not engage, or attempt to engage, in conduct in violation of any applicable laws, including but not limited to General Business Law

- § 349, General Business Law § 350, Personal Property Law § 337, Executive Law § 63(12), 12 CFR § 213.4, and 15 U.S.C. § 1667 et seq.
- 60. Specific Commitment to Refrain from Unlawful Lease Buyout Practices.

 Respondents shall not charge any amount for the purchase of a leased vehicle in excess of the Total Allowed Charge, regardless of whether or not it was the original leasing dealership. For the avoidance of doubt, Respondents may not charge any fee for any service provided by the dealership that is or is represented to be necessary or relevant to the purchase of the vehicle itself over and above the Total Allowed Charge.
- 61. Reform to Respondents' Invoicing Procedures. For all purchases of leased vehicles processed following the effective date of this Assurance, Respondents must issue a single bill of sale or invoice, as required by 15 NYCRR § 78.13(a). That bill of sale or invoice must state, in addition to the information required by that regulation, the following information clearly and conspicuously:
 - a. The vehicle price, which must be the Determined Purchase Option Price;
 - b. The amount of the lease purchase fee stated in the original lease that must be paid by the consumer (i.e. under the SignatureLease discussed above, $300);
 - c. The amount of the dealer's optional DMV fee the dealer proposes to charge, inclusive of the disclaimer required by 15 NYCRR § 78.19;
 - d. The price charged to the consumer for each after-sale product being sold alongside the vehicle, separately itemized for each such after-sale product and clearly and conspicuously identifying the after-sale product in question;
 - e. The appropriate quantity of sales taxes;

- f. If the vehicle is being purchased pursuant to a retail installment or financing contract, the relevant financing charges;
- g. If the vehicle is being purchased pursuant to a retail installment or financing contract, and the dealer or the bank charges any additional fees expressly permitted by that contract, the amount of each such fee clearly and conspicuously identified as such;
- h. As applicable, the estimated title and registration fee amounts as required by General Business Law § 396-qq;
- As applicable, the fee required to be charged by the New York Department of Motor Vehicles for safety and emissions inspections pursuant to Part 79 of the Regulations of the New York Commissioner of Motor Vehicles;
- j. A total sum that accurately states the entire amount to be charged, inclusive of all of the above items and all after-sale products, before the application of rebates or down payments;
- k. All other disclosures and other items required by local, state, or federal law to be included on the invoice;
- 62. The invoice issued to the consumer must be identical to the invoice kept in the deal file and the Respondents may not alter the invoice in the deal file or any other management system at any time.
- 63. Respondents must issue each consumer purchasing a leased vehicle with a statement drawn from NMAC's systems, or the lease holder if not NMAC, stating clearly and conspicuously the residual value of the vehicle, the net payoff amount, and the entire language set forth in the lease pertaining to the purchase of leased vehicles as well as all parts of the lease referenced in that lease language.

- 64. Respondents must not issue any other invoice to a consumer purchasing a leased vehicle other than the invoice required by paragraph 61, above, except for invoices associated with after-sale products further itemizing the price associated with elements of such products.
- 65. Respondents will furnish to the OAG an exemplar lease vehicle purchase invoice compliant with paragraph 61 within 10 business days following the execution of this Assurance. Respondents will respond to any concerns the OAG raises concerning the exemplars within 10 days of Respondents' receipt of those concerns.
- 66. Respondents must implement the relief described in this paragraph within 30 business days following the date of execution of this Assurance and continue to implement the relief permanently.
- 67. No Packing or Jamming of After-Sale Products. No after-sale product may be sold to a consumer in a lease buyout unless the consumer affirmatively agrees, after having been appraised of the terms of the service and the price in writing and of the fact that the product is optional, to purchase that after-sale product.
- 68. Correct Identification of Repairs. Respondents may not provide repairs or maintenance in connection with any sale of a vehicle without an itemized receipt detailing each repair and the price charged for that repair. Any charges for repairs may not be represented as certification fees but must be described as repairs and itemized accordingly.
- 69. Revisions to Lease Arrangements Imposed by NMAC. If NMAC, any franchisor of whom Respondents are a franchisee, proposes to impose obligations on Respondents inconsistent with the terms of this Assurance, Respondents must give notice to the OAG, within 30 business days, of the proposed obligations. Such notice must include copies of the pertinent communications from NMAC or the franchisor, as well as contact information for NMAC or the franchisor's counsel or other representative.

Restitution and Penalty

- 70. Respondents shall pay to the State of New York the amount of $2,486,118.72 ("the Total Payment") in 12 monthly installments of $207,176.56.
